NEWSLETTER SUPPLEMENT.

MARCH MEETING.

The March Meeting of the Society was the first full meeting held in the new meeting place - the Committee Room in the Town Hall.

Twenty members were present (also five apologies.) Regarding the matter of more frequent meetings, those present agreed to a proposal that full meetings be held monthly and that each second one be a workshop.

Trevor Hart presented some of the Society's files relating to notable Caulfield families with a short commentary on each. The files were then handed round for perusal.

APRIL VISIT.

There was a good attendance at the studio of the State Artist, Mr. Harold Freedman, in Dawson St. Brunswick, on Wednesday, April 18th.

We do apologize for the difficulty experienced by some members in finding the place. Had it been made apparent beforehand, arrangements could have been made to make it easier.

Mr. Freedman is engaged in the production of a historical mosaic for the City of Geelong showing it's development from pre-settlement days.

Mr. Peter Dunleavy clearly explained the various stages from the initial cartoon to the final panels. Minute accuracy is essential and we all found it most interesting. Mr. Dunleavy was thanked for staying back to make the inspection possible.

MYOORA.

'Myoora', one of Caulfield's stately homes - at the corner of Hawthorn and Alma Rds, appears on the Society's application for membership form. Once the home of the Christian family, it was more recently turned into flats. It may soon become a school. The Montroëssi Primary School has applied for use of the building as a primary school for about 90 children.

EARLY SCHOOLS.

Following our investigations in defunct schools last year, we have heard about some more. Can anyone help us with information about -

Stanmore College (Mrs. Annie Walsh) in Hawthorn Rd. c 1913.

'Adamsdown' Private School (the Misses Bruford) Alma Rd.

Lovell House C.of E. Girls Grammar School, Alma Rd. c 1923.

NEXT MEETING.      WEDNESDAY MAY 16th.      8 PM.

This will be a workshop evening, as suggested at the last meeting. Trevor Hart will see that we have plenty of work in connection with early Directories. Please bring a pen or pencil. We remind you that an early start is necessary, as we must vacate the meeting room by about 10 pm.
