

Speaker Series

The Women of Little Lon

Wednesday 23 November 2022
7.15pm (for 7.30pm)

We invite you to a talk by historian Barbara Minchinton on her book The Women of Little Lon. Sex workers in 19th century Melbourne were judged morally corrupt by the respectable world around them, but they were fully integrated into the community of Little Lon, and had links to the police and political leaders of the day. Drawing on the findings of archaeological excavations, archival material and the records used by all family historians, Barbara Minchinton brings the fascinating world of Little Lon to life.
